Our Past

Burton and Sons Plumbing was started By Albert Burton With his Sons Tim and Todd back in 1979. Al, Tim and Todd were all trained in plumbing by the Local Detroit plumbers union. A slow down in the economy that resulted in a slow down of construction related jobs was the inspiration that drove Albert to try to strike it on his own. A phone call to California where Tim and Todd where trying to make a living brought them back to help form the new business. Albert chose a business platform that was based on quality work at a fair price. That ethic is still the foundation that Tim and Todd carry with them to this day. From the garage behind Al's house to increasingly larger locations, Burton and sons has expanded from a one truck operation to its current 8 truck fleet. Today our operation includes 4 full time office personnel with state of the art computer systems and software to allow us to give our customers the service they have come to expect .
